COAST CLIPPINGS.

Bodie contributes $1,162 35 to the Veterans' Home.

The fish canneries in California have large orders for salmon.

A band of 8,000 sheep is caught in the snow somewhere near Eldorado Canyon.

A fire occurred at Lida Valley, Esmeralda county, destroying the house of M. Hay.

An unsuccessful attempt was made last week by the prisoners to break jail at Aurora.

Work upon the railroad from Cheyenne to Fort Laramie and Deadwood will be resumed.

Opium smoking is in full blast in Salt Lake. Half a dozen dens are selling the poison.

One Las Animas county (Colorado) farmer is preparing to plant 80 acres of potatoes this year.

The house of Mrs. McDonald on the Divide, Virginia city, was burned on Sunday night. Insurance $1,000.

Last Monday a slight shock of earthquake was felt in Santa Barbara, Merced, and San Joaquin counties.

It is estimated that $100,000 has been sunk in the variety show business at Leadville in the past two years.

The stages coming into Bodie had tough trips of it last week. They were all delayed—some abandoned.

John Zimmermann was knocked down by an engine near the Yellow Jacket shaft, Virginia City, and severely injured.

A large grizzly bear got loose at East Park, Sacramento, and when found was playing with a bull-dog near the park.

It is proposed to construct a railroad from Fort Isabel to connect with the Southern Pacific, to facilitate shipments from the oyster beds.

Samuel Jenkins, employed in the Northern Belle, Candelaria, fell down the shaft a distance of 150 feet and died after a few hours lingering.

An extensive stock owner of Greeley, Colorado, has recently purchased 3,000 head of cattle in Washington territory, and will drive them overland to Colorado.

California agriculturalists are adopting many plants from China and Japan. Great hope is had for the Soja bean, so extensively used for food in eastern Asia.

An extensive stock owner of Greeley has recently purchased three thousand head of stock in Washington Territory, and will drive them overland to Colorado.

It is announced that a herd of eleven thousand sheep has just arrived at Lincoln, Nevada, from Washington Territory. The journey has occupied about three years.

On the 14th of March 41 wheat vessels, with a carrying capacity of 90,000 tons, were at anchor in the San Francisco harbor, and 29 deep water ships, measuring 19,874 tonnage were in the Columbia river, Oregon.

There is said to be in Florence Rock Precinct, Jackson county, less than forty miles from Jacksonville, dense forests of white and sugar pine, which are as yet unclaimed, and which must, at no distant day, prove extremely valuable.

Early Day Legends.

Dutch Flat Legends.

The first piece of gold found in California weighed 50 cents and the second $5. Since that time one nugget $13,000, two $21,000, one $10,000, two $8,000, one $6,500, four $5,000, twelve worth from $2,000 to $4,000, and eighteen from $1,000 to $2,000, have been found and recorded in the history of the State. In addition to the above, numberless nuggets worth from $100 to $5,000 are mentioned in the annals of California gold mining during the last 30 years. The two first referred to were exchanged for bread, and all traces of them were lost. The finder of one of the $8,000 pieces became insane the following day, and was confined in the asylum at Stockton. A carefully compiled history of the gold hunters of 1850-60 would be interesting reading in these latter days.

A. Nathans, one of the managers of Coup's Show, has been prominently identified with the circus business for many years, and he has had control of many of the most celebrated circus companies in the United States. He contracted severe rheumatism from constant exposure, and St. Jacobs Oil relieved his rheumatic pains when nothing else, not even the best medical treatment, did him any good worth mentioning. He is enthusiastic in his praise of the Oil, and thinks it is an excellent thing for circus organizations to take with them travelling.

Peruvian hyacinth causes dyspepsia, general debility, liver complaint, colic, humor chronic diarrhea, nervous affections, female complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood.

MOLINE, Ill., July 14, 1881.

H. H. Warner & Co., Rochester, N. Y. GENTLEMEN: Your remedy, the Safe Kidney and Liver Cure has been used by both my wife and myself. She used it "on general principles," as a system and liver regulator; I took the medicine for a long-standing liver trouble, which has been the source of much inconvenience, and which failed to yield to the doctor's remedies, or any other. I used your Safe Kidney and Liver Cure. We both unite in pronouncing it to be the best medicine ever used, and in recommending it to others as a safe remedy.

CHICAGO, May 30, 1881.

H. H. Warner & Co., Rochester, N. Y. MY DEAR SIR: For several years I have been a sufferer, and until your Safe Kidney and Liver Cure was suggested I have not known what it is to be free from pain. My family physician attributed all my suffering to a diseased condition of my kidneys, and after he had failed to give me relief, I tried your remedy, and I feel well now to-day.

BELL TONGUE SYRUP, AN ACCIDENTAL DISCOVERY OF A GREAT VALUE.

AN INESTIMABLE BENEFIT TO MANKIND.

UNCLE BEN JO'S
GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN PA ACEA.

UNCLE BEN JO was born in Boston in 1830. Being a botanical and medical student, he went to South America to study botany, and while there he accidentally made his great discovery. The natives of the country were quite familiar with it, and had always supposed it to be a poisonous herb, which they used for the purpose of killing their enemies. He found it to be a very different plant, and about eight inches of the top part of its stalk is leafless, and this part looks over and hangs downward perpendicularly, and from its curved neck to its end it increases in size, and on the end of the same is a large, burly-looking ball, which stalk and ball, in this hanging position, look exactly like the tongue of a bell. Hence Uncle Ben JO named it the Bell Tongue Plant. In South America this herb is only found in the extreme interior of the country, and the natives there call it "Zarr Nero." It is a wonderful cure of kidney and liver diseases, also, dyspepsia, neuralgia and rheumatism. We have a whole library full of testimonials. Sold by OSBURN & SHOEMAKER, Reno, Nev.

JAY GOULD'S BONDS.

Jay Gould, hearing some bad rumors concerning his financial standing and embarrassments, sent a polite invitation last week to Cyrus W. Field, Russell Sage, and Frank Work (the confidential friend of W. H. Vanderbilt) requesting their presence at a given time at his office, No. 80 Broadway. This council of war assembled, where before them, on a large office table, open for inspection, were labelled packages displaying $54,000,000 par value of stock and other securities.

When they had satisfied themselves that Mr. Gould owned outright over one-fourth of the capital of Western Union and nearly half of the capital of Missouri Pacific, the callers expressed a unanimous desire to get away. Mr. Gould delayed them a moment by offering to show them a few of his bonds, but was interrupted by his genial secretary, who had already done a fair morning's work in supervising the removal of the stocks from the Trust Company's vaults to the office, with the deprecatory remark that it would require a couple of carriages to bring down the bonds. The callers, according to common report, did not evince any interest in the bonds. Their great desire seemed to be to get out of the office. Nor did they stand upon the order of their going. It was a question which should get into the market first.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

There seem to be two sorts of friends of the late President. Those who acknowledge the letter to Secretary Chase to be genuine have got their minds into such a state that they can see no fault in stabbing a friend in the back, and then denying it. Those whose honesty of mind forces them to confess the double dealing shown by a comparison of the letter to Chase and that to Rosecrans, as a last desperate resort question the authenticity of the letter to Chase. This class of General Garfield's friends are entitled to sympathy; but their doubts will have to be abandoned.

The action of the Massachusetts Legislature in again voting down woman suffrage is taken greatly to heart by the promoters of the movement. The defeated bill was to provide only for the extension of the ballot to women in municipal elections, and its success was quite confidently expected. On the same day an amendment striking the word "male" out of the State Constitution was passed by the Iowa Legislature, preparatory to a vote by the people. Wyoming has had woman suffrage twelve years.

The Virginia Chronicle says: "Senator Fair's bill to appropriate $100,000 to erect a Federal building in Carson for the use of the United States courts, Postoffice, etc., has passed the Senate. It is Carson's turn to fire anvil's now and point the finger of scorn at Reno. What are the Surveyor-General's office and the Republican convention compared with a $100,000 building?"

On the last two days of July, 1880, the rainfall over an area of 2,500 miles in the central part of England was 3 inches. A single inch in such an area amounts to 100,000,000 gallons. Will somebody please calculate the approximate number of gallons poured over California for the last eight days.

The Reno GAZETTE has a sensible article, in which it endeavors to overcome the existing antagonism between the so-called Boardman and Powning factions, among the Republicans of Washoe county. Let us see if the Journal can do as much.—Carson Index.

The friends of Hon. J. J. Lion would like to see the Republicans nominate him for the office of State Superintendent of Public Instruction. No better selection could be made.

Candelaria wants a town government. The True Press predicts that by next Fall over 1,000 votes will be polled there.

THE CONVENTION.

The Tribune has allowed its temper to get the better of its judgment, and has issued a proclamation calling upon "Republicans of Ormsby" to rise in their might and swipe Reno and the Republicans who voted for holding the next State convention at Reno from the face of the earth. It seems a difficult matter for the Tribune to tell just who was guilty of the grave offense of showing Carson the back pew. Dr. S. M. Lee, with a proxy from Lincoln, but a resident of Carson, was accused of treachery. On the streets Governor Kinkadee was the guilty man. The Index editor happened to be in Virginia the day the Central Committee met, and he, too, came in for a share of the odium: Carson seemed satisfied when the following was published in the Index:

"The Reno Journal of Saturday, in view of the resolution which was passed at the last State Convention, yields the point, and says the Convention must be held at Carson."

The Index fails to state, however, how it is that the Journal is rolling the Convention about from town to town, but does not dispute Mr. Powning's right to locate it wherever he wishes.

The truth of the matter is, the last State Convention did not pass a resolution naming Carson as the place for holding the Convention this year.

High Water.
 YAZOO CITY, March 21.

The water at this point is two feet above the '67 mark. It has risen one inch during the last 12 hours and is likely to reach the maximum by midnight or to-morrow. Boats from above report the water at a stand, and the excitement subsiding, but each steamer brings people and stock. A large part of the refugees are negroes, and with few exceptions are provided for by the merchants and planters who have them employed. Some have gone to the hills to work, and as yet there is no suffering. Some have remained in town, refusing to work and clamor for Government rations. At this point very little assistance is needed at present. The overflowed business houses of this city have had scaffolds built on them, and business continues. Yazoo has an extra police force day and night, and with few exceptions violations of the law have not occurred.

Jewell's Reply.
 CHICAGO, March 21.

Answering the letter of a friend regarding Stone, that Dorsey had never accounted to him about the expenses of the campaign of 1880, in Indiana, Marshall Jewell replied: "Your favor is at hand. I care little, and know less, what the newspapers think about the conduct of the last campaign. I sent no money whatever to Dorsey in Indiana. I paid for a good many papers and other documents which he ordered for that State and sent a good many there on my own account. You say the papers charge that I have asked him for no accounting for his Indiana expenses. That's true, for I had nothing whatever to do with them. Having furnished him no money, I asked for no explanation. Very truly yours,
 "MARSHALL JEWELL."

Fire Bogs at Laramie.
 LARAMIE, Wyoming, March 21.

An effort was made last night at about 12 o'clock to burn the Thornburgh House at this place. On Saturday night the oil house of the Union Pacific Railroad Company was burned, and on Sunday night the supply store was destroyed by fire. It seems to be a well organized effort to destroy Union Pacific property, but the cause is not known. Night watchmen are employed to detect the incendiaries, and if they be secured they will, without doubt, be lynched.

It Explains Itself.

Engineer Melville's Report.
 WASHINGTON, March 20.

The report of Engineer Melville to the Secretary of the Navy, dated Takutah, January 6, is at hand. Mr. Melville describes at length his fruitless search for De Long's party. A Russian exile accidentally found and succored Melville's party on October 10, though the latter had been assisted by three native pilots on September 27, who returned down the Lena. De Long was last heard of on October 9, when he decided to send two of his men forward for assistance. His party had eaten their last dog-meat, and were upon an allowance of three ounces of alcohol per man per day. On November 10 Melville discovered a hut, where there were good indications that one or two of De Long's party had slept. Some natives brought to him De Long's record, dated October 1.—On November 14 he found a cache, which had been made by De Long September 19, 1881, from which he took a sextant, a chronometer, the navigation books, and other articles. Melville says he is convinced De Long and party are somewhere to the westward of the Lena. A thorough search is now being made in that direction by the Russians.

ADDITIONAL PARTICULARS.

The following is a copy of Record No. 3, found by Yunkun Hunter and given me at the Upper Belun:

George Melville, P. A. Engineer, U. S. N., Arctic exploring steamer Jeannette, at Hut on Lena Delta, believed to be near Ficholohogje, Thursday, September 22, 1881.

The following named persons, 14 of the officers and crew of the Jeannette, reached this place yesterday afternoon on foot from the Arctic Ocean: P. A. Surgeon J. M. Ambler, J. J. Collins, W. F. Winderman, H. H. Erickson, J. A. Gartz, J. H. Boyd, N. J. Urson, A. Dressler, S. H. Koche, L. P. Noras, W. Lee, Ah Sam.

(Signed) Geo. De Long, Commander of the expedition, Lieutenant U. S. N.

(Copies of the above in six languages followed).

Whoever finds this paper is requested to forward it to the Secretary of the Navy at Washington, D. C., with correct time and place at which it was found.

The Jeannette was crushed and sunk by ice on the 13th of June, 1881, in latitude 77 degs. 15 min. north, longitude 155 degs., after having drifted 23 months in a tremendous pack of ice. Thirty-three persons, composing her officers and crew, dragged three boats and provisions over the ice to latitude N. 76 degs. 33 min. longitude 150 degs. 3 min. E., where they landed upon a new island, afterwards named Bennett Island, on July 29. From thence they went southward in boats, some times dragging them over ice, until the 19th of December, when we reached Yamontka Land, about 90 miles northeast of this delta. We started from there in company on the 12th of September, but that same night we were separated in a gale of wind, and I have seen nothing of the two other boats or their people. They were divided as follows: Second cutter, Lieutenant Chipp, Mr. Dunbar, A. Sweetman, A. J. Hornell, E. Star, H. D. Warren, A. P. Kane, P. Johnson. Whole boat: P. A. Engineer Melville, Master Danenhower, Mr. Newcombe, J. Cale, S. H. Bartlett, H. Wilson, T. Londerbach, T. Manson, Chas. Long, Sing Angreing, H. W. Leach. My boat having weathered the gale made land on the morning of the 16th inst., and after trying to get in shore for two days and being prevented by shoal water, we abandoned the boat and waded to the beach, carrying our arms, provisions and records, to a point about 13 miles east of this place. We had all suffered somewhat from cold, wet and exposure, and three of our men were badly lamed, but having only four days' provisions left, we reduced the rations and were forced to proceed southward Monday, September 19. We left a pile of our effects near the beach, erecting a long pole, where will be found everything valuable—chronometer, ship's log-books for two years, tent, etc., which we were absolutely unable to carry. It took us 48 hours to make these 12 miles, owing to our disabled men, and the two boats seemed good to stop at awhile, while I pushed forward with Neiderman to get relief for us. Last night we shot two reindeer, which gives us abundant food for the present, and we have seen so many more that our anxiety for the future is relieved. Soon as our three sick men can walk we shall resume our march for a settlement on the Lena river.

Saturday, September 24. 8 A. M.—Our three lame men being now able to walk, we are about to resume our journey, with two days' rations of deer meat and two days' rations of pemmican, and three pounds of tea.

(Signed) GEORGE W. DE LONG, Lieut. Commanding.

This paper is a copy of a note given Kudmas, and carried to Boukoff and given to me, and was the first intelligence I had from our first cutter.

(Signed) GEO. MELVILLE, P. A. Eng'r.

Record No. 6.—The Arctic steamer Jeannette, lost on the 18th of June, landed on the coast of Siberia on the 25th of September, or thereabouts. Went assistance to go for captain and doctor and nine other men.

Reply in haste. We want food and clothing.

Copy of record No. 4, found in a hut by Yokut Hunter and given to me at Upper Belun.

(Signed) GEO. M. MELVILLE, P. A. Eng'r, U. S. N.

Saturday, October 1, 1881.—Fourteen of the officers and men of the U. S. Arctic steamer Jeannette reached this hut Wednesday, September 28th, and having been forced to wait for the river to freeze over, are proceeding to cross to the west side this morning on our journey to reach some settlement on the Lena river. We have two days' provisions, but having been fortunate enough thus far to get game for our pressing needs, we have no fear for the future. Our party are all well except one man (Erickson) whose toes have been amputated in consequence of frost. Other records have been found in several huts on the east side of this river, along which we have come from the northward. Signed: Geo. W. De Long, U. S. N.; Passed Assistant Surgeon Ambler, and Messrs. J. J. Collins, W. T. Minderman, H. Wickson, A. Gartz, A. Lee, L. P. Foras, G. H. Boyd, A. Dressler, H. H. Kock, N. Jerson, Ah Sam Alexy.

Enclosure of the U. S. Arctic Expedition, Cape Emma, Bennett Island, lat. 76 deg. 38 sec. long. 145 deg. 20 sec. E.; Aug. 5, 1881: To P. A. ENGINEER GEO. MELVILLE, U. S. N.: Sir—We shall leave this island to-morrow, steering our course over ice or through the water, as the case may be, south by the magnet. In the event of our embarking in our boat at any time after we start, you are hereby ordered to take command of the whale boat until such time as I relieve you from that duty, or assign you to some other. Every person under my command at the time, who may be embarked in that boat at any time, is under your charge and subject to your orders, and you are to exercise all care and diligence for their preservation and safety of your boat. You will, under all circumstances, keep close to the boat in which I shall embark, but if we become separated you will make best your way south until you make the coast of Siberia, and follow it along to the westward as far as the Lena river. This river is the destination of our party, and without delay you will, in case of separation, ascend the Lena to a Russian settlement from which you can communicate or be forwarded with your party to some place of security and easy access. If this boat in which I am embarked is separated from the other boats, you will place yourself under order of Lieutenant C. W. Chipp, and so long as you may remain in his company obey such orders as he may give you.

(Signed) GEO. W. DE LONG, Lt. U. S. N. Com'r Arctic Expedition.

The above is a true copy of my orders.

The Discussion Resumed.
 WASHINGTON, March 21.

The discussion of the Chinese bill in the House of Representatives will be resumed to-day, and will probably be allowed to continue throughout the day's session, and until about 3 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, when, according to Page's present intention, he will demand the previous question. The friends of the bill do not think it advisable to limit the debate to any earlier period, especially as large numbers of the members are known to be prepared with speeches in favor of the measure. Pacific members are meanwhile laboring assiduously to gain votes, both among Republicans and Democrats, and are satisfied that they lose nothing by the delay. Page, who has immediate charge of it will endeavor to prevent the adoption of any amendment, and for the reasons heretofore stated, is particularly earnest in refusing to give his consent to any reduction of the time of suspension. By maintaining the stand he has to encounter serious embarrassments, which were not experienced in the Senate; namely: The positive knowledge on the part of many of the members that President Arthur would like to have the period of suspension reduced to ten years, and they widely circulated a rumor that in case the bill be brought to final without the amendment of its twenty years suspension clause, he will veto it on the ground of alleged infraction of the spirit of the treaty. These reports (although the latter finds but few believers in unprejudiced circles) are exciting a very considerable amount of influence in the House, and their circulation is industriously promoted by what seems to be a pretty well organized body made up of representatives of the Six Chinese companies, New York and Boston shipping interests, and sentimentalists from all parts of the country. General Rosecrans is confined to his room by threatened erysipelas in his wounded foot, and under orders from his physician, is kept in a recumbent position. He hopes to be at the Capital by Wednesday in time to speak and vote on the Chinese bill, but meanwhile has written to Berry to obtain a leave of absence, and arrange a pair for him.

Railroad Land Survey.
 WASHINGTON, March 21.

A bill was introduced in the House yesterday by Representative Cassidy to compel the survey of lands embraced within the railroad subsidy limits. It sets forth that more than 25,000,000 of acres remain unsurveyed, of lands granted to the Central Pacific, Union Pacific and Kansas Pacific railroads, and that these companies by a failure to cause a survey to be made, evade taxes in the States and Territories in which they lie, and the revenues to which they are justly entitled. The bill directs the Secretary of the Interior to cause proper surveys to be made, and to issue land patents to the companies, and make the lands subject to taxation from the date of the execution of patents. The bill was referred to the Committee on Public Lands.
